CAPE COD

You're more than a strip of land
Into the ocean run,
  You're a race of men
  Who have sailed the seas
To the edge of the setting sun.

You're more than a resting place
For the city's worn and ill,
  You're growing corn
  And pasture lands
And lifting miles of hills.

You're more than a stretch of sand
Which Cod arms come to seek,
  You're rumbling carts
  And lobster pots
And dories in a creek.

You're more than a summer place
To spend a month or so,
  You're a dear old home
  In a smell of marsh
Where we children love to go.

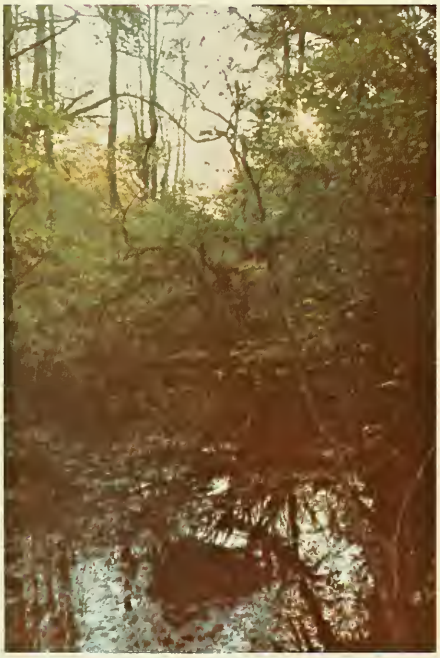
Cold jade wind
Not an angel in the sky
Just cold jade restless wind.
Something's comin' I know
to devastate my soul.
— Laura Nyro



Knowing that Nature never did betray
The heart that loved her; 'tis her privilege,
Through all the years of this our life, to lead
From joy to joy; for she can so inform
The mind that is within us, so impress
With quietness and beauty, and so feed
With lofty thoughts, that neither evil tongues,
Rash judgments, nor the sneers of selfish men,
Nor greetings where no kindness is, nor all
The dreary intercourse of daily life,
Shall e'er prevail against us, or disturb
Our cheerful faith, that all which we behold
Is full of blessings.

William Wordsworth

Ah, summer is over

But the music keeps playing

And won't let the cold get me down.
— C. King

The moon looks on many brooks,
The brook can see no moon but this.
— Thomas Moore

I saw Old Autumn
in the misty morn
Stand shadowless like silence,
Listening
To silence . . .

— Thomas Hood

The Coming of Wisdom with Time

Though leaves are many, the root is one
Through all the lying days of my youth
I swayed my leaves and flowers in the sun;
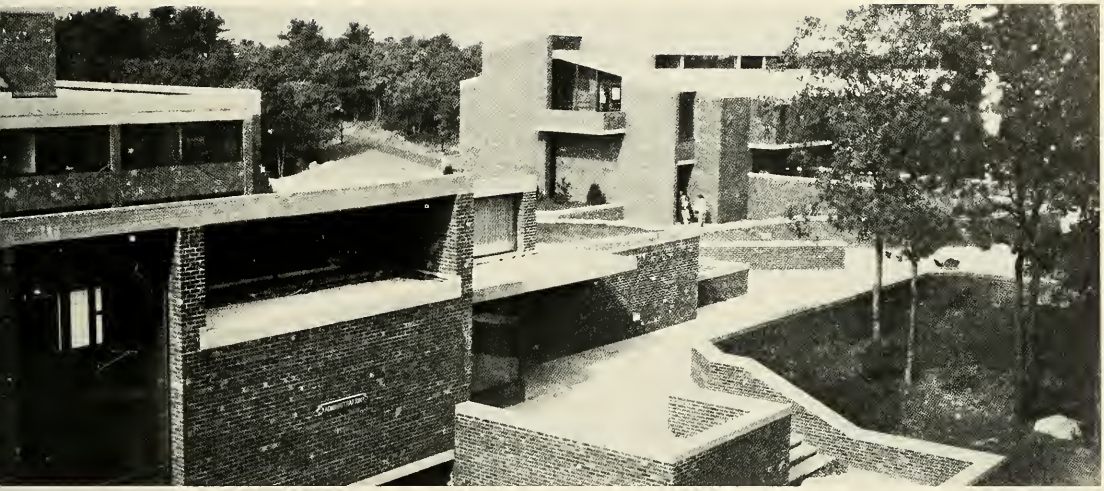
Now I may wither into the truth.
— William Butler Yeats

Autumn to Winter, Winter into Spring
Spring into Summer, Summer into Fall,
So rolls the changing year and so we change.
Motion so swift, we know not that we move.
— Dinah Maria Mulock



The Road Not Taken

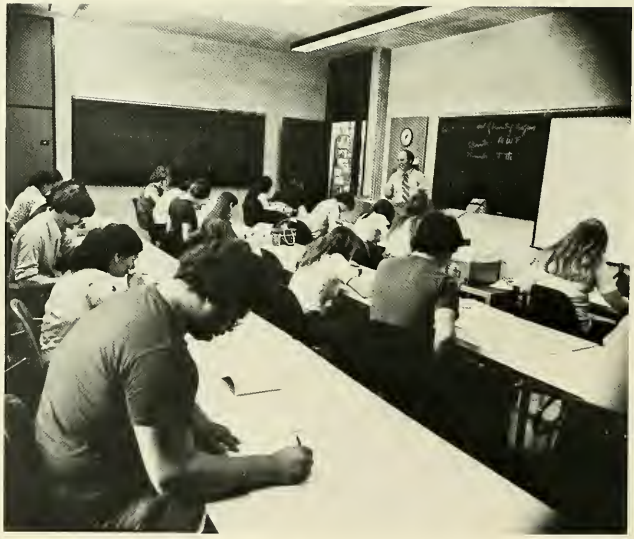
Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

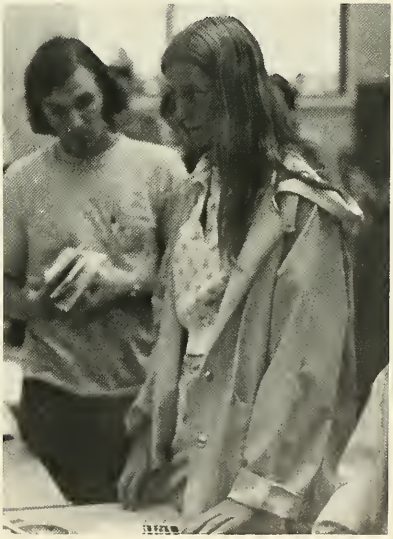
And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh,
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood; and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

— Robert Frost



Huh?



Yeahhh, Riiight.

Much study had made him
very lean,
And pale, and leaden-eyed.
— Thomas Hood

Any time my little world is blue
I just have to look at you
And everything seems to be
Some kind of wonderful.
— Laura Nyro

The night before the Exam is full of last minute
Knowledge being crammed
Into the empty spaces.
How do I feel? — paranoid!
— Brian Erwin

Activities

Phase 1: Subject is totally oblivious to outside pressures.

Phase 2: The subject shows first signs of degeneration.

Phase 3: Finally, with all hope gone, we have the finished product: a total degenerate!

You're WHAT?!

It's the moment,
this present
fragment of time,
that's intolerable.
We can tolerate
